ABOUT ORBI

ORBI Seeds International is a company with a difference. The seeds we breed satisfy farmers and consumers all over the world. They do not just enliven markets; they create fresh ideas. We harness the finest talent in vegetable breeding and consistently supply the best quality seeds to the farmers at affordable prices. Hence our tag line reads, Talent for Breeding and Innovation.”

Dr. Sanjay Dwivedi started ORBI Seeds in the year 2016. Sanjay has been in the seed industry for the last 25 years and has held responsible positions in various companies. Our partners - Bhalsar Seed International (Thailand), Nozaki Seeds (Japan), and Dutch Genetics (Netherlands) - have helped us in serving the global seed market. Today, we can supply vegetable seeds of the highest quality to all the major seed markets in the world. We are proud to have Dr. Remo Ludergrani as our Chairman and shareholder. He is a well-known name in the seed industry. Before ORBI, Remo held responsible positions in Peto Seeds, Sun Seeds, and founder of United Genetics. He has developed excellent quality and affordable seeds for the global markets. We have Research and Development (R&D) stations in India, Thailand, and the USA. While the stations in India and Thailand focus on breeding vegetable seeds for the Asian markets, the one in the USA focuses on the American and European markets. The US station breeds and produces organic seeds to support organic farming. The four stations in India have a state of art molecular marker, DH and other latest breeding facilities. While recognizing the rapid increase in the demand for protected cultivation, the company has launched a strong program in this area. In this segment, our focus crops include sweet peppers, cucumbers, tomatoes, melons, jalapenos and other exotic peppers.
